

The Diary of Sally Potts

A London Servant Girl

Sunday 2nd September 1666

This morning, as I was doing my daily chores I noticed a strong smell of burning. I wonder what it could be?

Monday 3rd September 1666

I was right to be worried about the smell... There is a terrible fire raging across London! From the upstairs windows, we can hear the shouts and see houses being pulled down to stop the fire spreading. What an awful tragedy this is! Some servants have bravely gone to help fight the fire, taking leather buckets with them.

Mrs Smith (the cook) says that the fire will be put out before it reaches us but I am not so sure. We are getting the horse and cart ready just in case.

Quick Questions

1. What can Sally see from the upstairs windows?

2. What do you think the servants are planning to do with the leather buckets?

3. Can you find an exclamation sentence in the text?

4. What do you think will happen to Sally on Tuesday?
